CHEAP SILKS.

They Do Not Wear Well Because They Are Heavily Adulterated.

The woman whose silk skirt splits the second or third time she wears it is apt to sigh for the silks of her grandmother's day, with their seemingly imperishable qualities, but as a matter of fact silks are much better now than they were before. The ancestral silks, which were woven on hand looms, were never of an even texture, whereas with modern machinery the last inch of a hundred yard piece comes out exactly the same as the first one. The art of dyeing, too, has been brought to a state of perfection never known before, and communication between the silk workers of the world is so rapid that a discovery made by one is soon known to all the others. The reason so many modern silks do not wear is because they are adulterated to meet the demand for cheapness, their wearing ability being in exact proportion to the amount of silk they contain. Cheap silks are largely made up of dye and dressing. A good quality of silk is defined by manufacturers as one which has not more than four ounces of weighting to the pound, and none have less than two ounces. Most of the weighting is put in during the dyeing process, and when a manufacturer sends a quantity of silk to the dyer he says that he wants it to come back weighing so much, according to the amount of adulteration required.—New York Tribune.

MACARONI.

It Is Made From the Meal of a Wheat Called Semolina.

Macaroni, which is derived from the Italian word maccare, to crush, is prepared from the meal of a hard variety of wheat which is cultivated in the south of Europe and in other warm climates. Its suitability for the manufacture of macaroni, vermicelli and other pastes is to be found in the easy preservation of preparations made from it and also in its richness in gluten and other nitrogenous substances.

The meal of this wheat, which is named semolina and is itself a commercial article, is mixed into a stiff dough with boiling water and while still hot is placed into a metallic cylinder, at one end of which is a thick disk pierced with openings and into the other end of which a piston is introduced, which forces the dough out through openings which correspond with the section of the article which it is intended to make.

Ordinary tube macaroni has its form given to it by mandrels of the requisite thickness, which are fixed within the openings of the disk. It is dried by hanging it in long strings in stoves through which a current of air is driven.—London Express.

POSITION IN SLEEP.

The Connection Between Health and the Way of the Bed.

A French scientist claims to have established a distinct connection between our health and the position which our beds occupy with regard to the points of the compass. He relies upon the fact that the sap of trees is gradually driven toward the east by centrifugal force, so that they develop more on that side. This induces him to argue that when we remain in bed for several hours with our heads toward the east this will tend to drive the liquids of our body from west to east, and our blood has a tendency to flow toward the brain, so that we sleep uneasily and find ourselves less fresh when we awake than if our feet had pointed eastward.

If our bed stand north and south it is better to lie with the head northward, as the centrifugal force acts from north to south in our hemisphere.

This old inscription on a bedstead is good: "So that ye harte be rite, it matters not which waye ye head laye."

LAWS ON EATING.

Meals at One Time Were Regulated by Statute In England.

On Nov. 2, 1336, a law came into force in England for the regulation of meals and continued to have a place on the statute book until 1857. It was designed to check the evils resulting from an excessive use of costly meats and enacted that no one should partake at any place or time (except on specified festivals and holidays to the number of sixteen days a year) of more than two courses, each not consisting of more than two sorts of victuals, either flesh or fish, with the common sorts of pottage, and inexpensive sauce. On named feast days three courses were allowed.

This law was an extension of an ordinance issued by Edward II. in 1315 regulating the meals of his nobles, the greater of whom were allowed in addition to two courses of two kinds of meat a side dish of one sort.

An act of 1363 enacts that servants, artisans and laborers "shall be served to eat and drink once a day of flesh or fish and remnant of other victuals, as of butter, milk and cheese, according to their station in life."—London Telegraph.

AFTERNOON TEA.

It Was the Vogue In England In the Eighteenth Century.

The earliest mention of afternoon tea is by Carlyle of Inveresk, who, writing of society at Harrogate in 1763, says, "The ladies gave afternoon tea and coffee in their turns."

In 1766 William Dutton wrote home from Eton college to his father in Sherborne, "I wish you would be so kind as to let me have tea and sugar to drink in the afternoon, without which there is no keeping company with other boys of my standing."

Dr. Somerville, minister of Jedburgh, writing of social habits in Scotland in his early life (1741), says, "Most families, both in the higher and in the middle ranks, used tea at breakfast, but among the latter it was only recently introduced in the afternoon, on the occasion of receiving company."

Thackeray, in "The Newcomes" (1855), alludes to the light refreshment halfway between lunch and dinner as if it were already a fashionable institution, "Barnes Newcome comes every day, from the city, drops in and drinks tea at 5 o'clock."—London Globe.

DID HIS BEST.

He Brought the Only Cant Hook That He Could Find.

If the report of the Fulton Gazette is true a Missouri farmer, accompanied by several of his hired men, went into the woods one morning in the fall of the year to cut down some trees. When about to begin work it was discovered that the cant hook had been left behind. Turning to one of the men, an Irishman not very long over, the farmer instructed him to drive back to the barn for the missing tool. The Irishman did not know what a cant hook looked like, but was averse to exposing his ignorance, so drove off on his errand, trusting to find some one at the farm who would enlighten him.

At the barn, however, there was no one to help him out of his dilemma. Casting his eyes about the place for the thing that would be most likely to bear the name of "cant hook," he saw a mulley cow with never a sign of a horn upon its head and concluded it was what he had been sent for.

Procuring a rope he fastened the cow to the rear end of his vehicle and exultingly drove back to the woods.

"What the Sam Hill have you got there?" shouted the farmer on seeing his messenger and the cow. "I sent you for the cant hook to use in moving the logs. What have you brought that cow for?".

"Be jabers, boss, divil another thing could I see around the barn that can't hook but this."

Not Too Timid.

An officer in the army laughed at a timid woman because she was alarmed at the noise of a cannon when a salute was fired. He subsequently married that timid woman, and six months afterward he took off his boots in the hall when he came in late at night.

Accustomed to It.

Ada—And weren't you a bit nervous when he proposed? Clara—Oh, no! A proposal doesn't make me nervous any more.—New York Press.

Much bending breaks the bow; much unbending, the mind.—Bacon.

His Mark.

It is well known that people who are unable to write usually use for their signatures the familiar cross or X. Why this sign is used instead of any other is not generally known. In times long gone by the early Christians used to sign with the cross to distinguish them from the heathen. Kings and nobles, too, were wont to affix a cross to documents, whether they could write or not, as a symbol that they pledged themselves to the Christian faith and thus to the truth of the matter to which the cross was affixed.

A MONSTER DUMPLING.

It Weighed a Pound For Each Vote Cast at Dumpling Town.

In Halifax county, N. C., prior to 1840 there was a voting precinct known by the odd name of Dumpling Town. In 1840, when William Henry Harrison was elected president after a most exciting campaign, Dumpling Town had exactly 114 voters, and every man of them cast his ballot for Harrison.

The people of the small but prosperous town of Scotland Neck, in that county, showed their appreciation of the unanimous vote of Dumpling Town by a generous and whimsical gift. Two days and a night were consumed in building a big dumpling, which was made of apples and flour and which weighed 114 pounds, one pound for each vote cast at Dumpling Town. This monster of a dumpling was put in a sack supported by a tripod and lowered into an immense iron kettle.

It required two days and a night to cook it properly. Then it was lifted out and placed in a specially made bowl cut from the trunk of an enormous cypress tree, and round it were placed 114 dumplings of the usual size. A band of music and fifty wagons were sent to Dumpling Town, and in these wagons were taken to Scotland Neck the 114 true blue Harrison men and their families.

There was great cheering when they arrived at Scotland Neck, and the guests cheered themselves when they saw the feast prepared for them, for, besides the dumplings, no end of good things filled many tables in the spacious warehouse, and the feasting and fun lasted the rest of the day and nearly all night.

A barrel of the best molasses was used as sauce for the big dumpling, and the hungry people ate it all.—Youth's Companion.

Consumption

The only kind of consumption to fear is "neglected consumption."

People are learning that consumption is a curable disease. It is neglected consumption that is so often incurable.

At the faintest suspicion of consumption get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion and begin regular doses.

The use of Scott's Emulsion at once, has, in thousands of cases, turned the balance in favor of health.

Neglected consumption does not exist where Scott's Emulsion is.

Prompt use of Scott's Emulsion checks the disease while it can be checked.

MARSH LAND FOR DAIRYING.

The Dairy and Produce Review contains and article which applies identically to those lands that are being reclaimed at Redwood City. People are beginning to realize the value of marsh lands and much money is being invested in them:

DAIRY ENTERPISE FOR NAPA COUNTY.

"A large dairy enterprise is planned for Napa County. A company of Del Norte and Humboldt County people have purchased a large tract of tule land at the delta of Napa Creek which is to be reclaimed and converted into pasture lands. Those back of the scheme are persons from the Arcata section in Humboldt County where the famous Arcata "bottoms" have been reclaimed and converted into one of the best dairy sections on the coast from land that was previous to the reclamation work, almost worthless. Many fortunes have have been made in developing the Arcata bottom country, which which no doubt accounts for these investors looking for new fields to apply their enterprise. The low lands of Napa County present about the same problems in the way of reclamation.

"The company has $40,000 capital stock subscribed. Its president is Frank E. Knight of Regua, Del Norte County. The other stockholders are all located at Arcata and Eureka."

Probably the Arcata Bottoms are the finest dairy and farming lands in the world, and the fact that men who have grown wealthy on this class of land, recognize the value of our marsh lands to the extent of the money they are investing in them, is the very best of credentials.

WHO OWNS YOSEMITE VALLEY

In a letter to the editor of the San Francisco Call, Mr. W. H. Mills calls attention to two points hitherto overlooked or disregarded in discussing the proposed recession of Yosemite Valley to the Federal Government. The forest park surrounding the valley was specially reserved to protect the water-shed of the streams flowing into the valley and supplying the wonderful group of falls and cascades constituting the chief beauty and charm of that remarkable spot. In essence, therefore, the valley is but a constituent part of the park. If the valley had been originally included in the park reservation Mr. Mills asks, would anybody dream of cutting the heart out of the park and placing it under separate control?

When the valley was ceded to California, the State was given only a limited control; the grant contained a forfeiture clause, in terms the valley was made inalienable forever, and the State was forbidden to grant any leasehold right for a longer period than ten years. In short, the State was granted only the right to pay the bills for controlling the valley conditionally.

It is clear, therefore, that the State does not own the valley. It is still restrained from doing as it pleases with the grant, in which the Government still holds the title in reversion.

Under any circumstances the valley must remain a place of resort for the public, consequently the State cannot lose any of the benefits now derived from it by letting the Government administer it and provide the cost of the accommodations now urgently demanded by tourists.

They don't have any of this sophomore and freshmen foolishness at the University of Virginia. The students there are not disposed to make monkeys of themselves. They have plenty fun, but they treat each other as gentlemen.

A young man's idea of an attractive girl is one who doesn't care for ice cream and oysters.

The Mountebank.

"The Bells" in which J. H. Gilmour is giving such an intensely dramatic portral of the Burgomaster draws to a close with the performance of Sunday night. It will be followed on Monday evening by "The Mountebank" with the popular actor Lander Stevens in the role of Belphegor which is said to give him unwonted advantage to display his dramatic talents. "The Mountebank" is from the French drama of D'Emery's and is the favorite starring vehicle of Frederick Warde whom Lander Stevens understudied for several seasons. The caste has been well selected from among the H. W. Bishop's double organization of players. The staging will be the most ornate order and be fully up to the standard in its magnificence and appropriateness to the famous Warde production. Commencing February 6th the poetical drama "Mizpah, or story of Esther" by Ella Wheeler Wilcox and Luscombe Searelle will be revived. Adele Block has been specially retained to again present the role of Esther which so artistically portrayed on the former occasion.

Marriage Licenses.

Since Jan. 1st, the following marriage licenses have been issued by County Clerk Schaberg: Richard Hilburn of Bakersfield and Anna Sibolt of Sutter, Cal.; Manuel A. Dos Reis of Vallejo and Rosa Dutra Goularte of Halfmoon Bay; Nolan H. Swanigan and Amelia Albrier, both of San Francisco; Alvin A. Sapp of Davenport, Iowa, and Mary E. Hudson of St. Louis, Missouri; John A. Morrill and Anita Smith, both of San Francisco; Antone R. Machado and May Josie Silva, both of San Carlos; Alanson Swain of San Francisco and Jeannette Barker of San Jose.

A Prisoner of War.

The newest and what is considered the best melodrama will be produced at the Central Theatre, San Francisco, for the first time on next Monday night and is called a "Prisoner of War". This play is founded on incidents connected with the present Japanese-Russian War and is said to be a thriller from start to finish. From a scenic standpoint it is doubted if the Central has anything in months as realistic and startling. One scene in particular that will create sensation. Is where the hero is bound hand and foot and foot and cast in prison manages to free himselt and turn the lever that causes a submarine mine to explode. This one act alone is worth the price of admission. Herchell Mayall and Juliet Crosby will have the leading parts and the balance of the splendid stock company will be suitably cast. There is plenty of comedy, elegant costuming and rich stage settings, besides having a most interesting story.

Prizes for Ball.

The following-named have donated prizes for the firemen's masque ball, which will be held at the Alhambra February 18th: P. P. Chamberlain, $5; J. C. Barg, $5; Stafford & Sears, $2.50; George Botsch, $2.50; George P. Baldwin, fancy cake; R. C. Holmquist, three-pint nickel-plated coffee pot; Gabe Einstein, bedspread, P. A. Ryan, cologne; M. Goldsmith, box of cigars; George Genochio, box of cigars; Carl Muller, pair of pants; F. Larrouy, case of wine; Hull Brothers, carving set; Charles Luscher, side of bacon; Cullen Company, sack of flour; George Kreiss, load of flag rock; Mrs. Ellen Gardner, ladies' hat; Gevert Plump, buck and saw; Stafford Brothers, glassware.

City Council Meeting.

The City Council held a brief session Monday night. In view of the street paving shortly to be commenced it was ordered that property owners on Main and A streets be notified to renew their water connections, using galvanized pipe. An order was also made that sewer branches be carried inside of the curb. F. A. Nippart, representing the United Gas and Electric Company, stated that that corporation would be soon ready to increase the number of taps to their gas mains on the streets named. W. O. Dodge presented as sureties for the faithful performance of the sewer contract recently awarded to him E. O. Rhodes and C. E. Knight, each of whom qualified in the sum of $200. The bond was approved.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

Stolen from Menlo Park, Jan. 11, 1905, one black mare, 9 years old, in fair condition, about 15 hands high, several white spots on back, wind galls on both hind legs. She was hitched to a rubber-tired top buggy; running gear painted red and body black (Studebaker Bros., makers).

Mrs. W. W. Thomas, mother of Mrs. L. P. Behrens of this city, passed away at Orland Wednesday after a lingering illness. Deceased was a resident of Orland for forty years, and was one of the best known and best beloved women in the northern part of the State. She leaves one son, Adelbert Greenwood of Orland, and a daughter, Mrs. L. P. Behrens of Redwood City, and a husband, W. W. Thomas. Mrs. Thomas was highly esteemed by all who knew her, for her many virtues. Mrs. Behrens has been in constant attendance upon her mother for the past two months. Mr. Behrens left Thursday morning for Orland to attend the funeral obsequies.

Mr. and Mrs. John Coats returned from San Francisco Thursday, after an absence of nearly a month. The stay of Mr. Coats was an enforced one, as he was compelled to go to a city sanitarium so that proper attention might be given to his thumb, the first joint of which was amputated. The cause of Mr. Coats' injury was a small scratch which he received while taking a box from the train. As it was of a trifling nature he paid no attention to it until it became so bad that medical attention was necessary. When too late he found that blood poisoning had set in.

The Eikerenkotter Case.

The contested election suit of H. D. Pierce against Julius Eikerenkotter was resumed in the Superior Court last Saturday. The contestant having presented all his evidence, attorney Geo. C. Ross, on behalf of Mr. Eikerenkotter, made a motion that defendant be declared elected, as the testimony offered did not sustain the allegations of the complaint. The Court, while inclined to grant the motion, made an order that the motion be submitted on briefs to be gubmitted by February 21st. Should he fail to allow the motion, defendant will present evidence for his side of the case. It is the prevailing opinion that the Court will allow the motion, as no material evidence was presented by the plaintiff to sustain his allegation.

Sues For $15,000.

Annie F. Morrow has commenced suit against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company to recover damages in the sum of $15,000 for injuries alleged to have been received near Beresford Station on January 21, 1903. She alleges in her complaint that while the company was converting its road from a single track to a double track system, a culvert over a small creek near Beresford was left open on the night of January 21, 1903, and that she, not knowing the stringers were taken up, fell through the culvert to the creek below, a distance of seven feet. She lay there unconscious for two hours and suffered great bodily pain, and received, so she alleges, permanent injuries. As a balm for her wounds she asks the court to allow her $15,000 and costs of suit.

J. E. White of San Francisco is her attorney.

A Home Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Elvira Schuck and Dr. Walter Janke was quietly celebrated Tuesday of last week at the home of the bride's parents, Professor and Mrs. L. M. Schuck, 1651 Bush street, San Francisco. The bride's grandfather, Rev. J. C. Hyden, performed the ceremony, after which Dr. and Mrs. Janke left for a wedding trip to Del Monte. They will be at home, 517 Fillmore street, after February 1. Dr. Janke is well identified with the younger set in his profession, and Mrs. Janke is known as a musician among her friends. Dr. Janke is a brother-in-law of Dr. W. O. Stuttmeister of this city and for a while practiced his profession here. He is a genial young gentlemen with a host of friends who congratulate the young dentist in securing for a bride so charming a woman.

Funeral of Herman Beyer.

The funeral of Herman Beyer was held from the home of his old friend, Mrs. Finger, last Sunday. Rev. H. E. Jewett of Berkeley, who pastor of the Congregational church here thirty years ago, delivered a short address at the house and made a few remarks at the grave. He was assisted by Rev. C. C. Kirtland. Notwithstanding the rainy weather a large number of the friends who had known Mr. Beyer so many years attended the funeral. The body was borne to its last resting place by six men who had been intimate associates of Mr. Beyer for nearly half a century.

Dredgers at Work.

The big clam-shell steam dredger "Monitor" has been added to the dredging flat now at work on the Whitney-Hearst Reclamation in front of Redwood City. She can handle 2000 cubic yards of material per day and is particularly adapted for building the large dams required on the work. About seven miles of levee have been built. The entire job will require about thirty-five miles of levee containing about 500,000 cubic yards of material.

To Quiet Title.

William Holder has brought suit in the Superior Court against William Cottam to quiet title to lots 11 and 12 on the east side of Main street, Redwood City.

THOMPSON DIES FROM WOUND

Policeman Murphy Denies That He Used His Club.

John Thompson, the 22 year-old son of O. Thompson, an inspector for the United Railroads, died at the City Emergency Hospital in San Francisco early Thursday morning with a fractured skull. Thompson received his injuries at Woodward's Pavilion on Wednesday night.

The father of the unfortunate boy at once sent for James Crowe of this city to prepare the body for burial, and the remains will arrive here to-day and will be taken to Mr. Crowe's undertaking parlors. Interment will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park, where another brother is buried.

The Thompson family have been singularly unfortunate. Their young son Louis, aged 25 years, was killed by one of the Southern Pacific trains near San Mateo last November. At that time the father was almost heartbroken over the loss of his son. Mr. Crowe had shown great kindness to the grief-stricken parent in his loss, and when he was similarly afflicted Thursday he immediately sent for the good natured Coroner to perform his kind offices in preparing the remains of the boy he loved so well for their last resting place at Menlo Park.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Proceedings Had in Probate and Civil Matters the Past Week.

Eugene D. Sullivan, as trustee, vs. William C. Glass et al—Trial of action set for February 23.

The Street Proposition.

The whole talk of the city trustees at the Board meeting Monday night was regarding the new streets which will be put in as soon as the good weather commences. From the tone of the board's remarks it could be seen that "we the people of Redwood" mean business and that we intend to have and to keep good streets. The general purport of the proceedings was that every property owner on Main, Bridge and A streets must renew their connections with the water mains with new galvanized iron pipes. It was also the pleasure of the board that the aforesaid owners must put sewer connections from the mains to the curb line so that any subsequent builders may have sewer connections without digging up the streets to get them. All of which goes to show that after fifty-two years of grumbling the residents of the town are now assured of going dryshod. A Gazette of 1862 tells about a worthy townsman who was driving on Main street and accidentally got into a mudhole. There horses were unable to pull the vehicle out, and it was left, in the hope that it might be removed in dry weather. The streets are hardly that bad now but a little improvement will not go amiss.

A Good Appointment.

Governor Pardee has appointed Geo. R. Sneath of San Bruno a member of the State Dairy Board, vice Dr. Thomas Flint, deceased. Mr. Sneath is a gentleman of high standing in San Mateo county, and owing to his knowledge of dairying no better appointment could be made. The Governor has displayed great wisdom in selecting Mr. Sneath for the position.

What has become of the leap year "Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Old Bachelors"?

THE GRAND JURY'S REPORT

Extravagant Fees Condemned and Recommendations Made.

The Roads Were Found in Good Condition, Excepting Those Around Menlo.

The Grand Jury filed its report with Judge Buck Tuesday. It differs little from reports of grand juries of previous years.

The new courthouse construction pleased the jurors and the members expressed satisfaction at the manner in which the Supervisors are managing the work.

One of the first recommendations is one that will meet with the approval of the county officers. The jury finds that it has been the custom of the officials to act as sureties on liquor bonds. The practice is not considered a commendable one and it is suggested that it be discontinued.

"We further recommend," says the report, "that the Treasurer of the county be instructed not to pay any county warrants, claims or demands to any person other than the claimant or the claimant's assignee unless said County Treasurer has an assignment of said claim, demand or warrant, in writing, from the person to whom the same has been regularly allowed, and that all claims and demands against said county be receipted for on the claim in the name of the person to whom the same is due and payable, or to his assignee."

It is recommended that the Auditor do not deliver any claims, demands or warrant to any one except to the person whose name appears upon said claim as the lawful owner thereof.

The jury takes note of the extravagant cost of collecting burial tax in the First township in the following language: "We further recommend that the Board of Supervisors immediately take some means to secure a more economic collection of fees for the issuance of burial permits. We feel satisfied, from our investigation, that too much money is being expended for that purpose and we call attention to the report of the expert on the matter."

Regarding the alleged crimes against the election laws in the First and Fourth townships the jury found no ground that would warrant an indictment.

A. Wilber and M. J. Hawes, the committee for the First Township, reported that the roads in that district were bad, particularly that portion of the highway from Holy Cross to Baden Station. The bridge on the San Pedro road near the Brooks place is unsafe and in need of immediate repair. The San Pedro schoolhouse is in poor condition, and without the necessary conveniences.

The jail at South San Francisco is wholly unfit for a lock-up because of its insecurity.

It is recommended that the Supervisor of the First District take steps to widen the county road at Collopy's corner; that the railroad company place automatic gates at the two crossings at Colma, and that the United Railroads maintain a light at Holy Cross Station.

In the Second Township, the committee, J. T. Jennings and Eugene O'Neill, find the roads in excellent condition. It is recommended that the railroad company place safety gates at the following crossings: Two in the town of Belmont, and one at Laurel Creek.

The condition of the affairs of the Third Township were looked into by Wm. Headley and Laban Langley. Many of the roads in and about Menlo Park were found in bad condition. The road running from Redwood to Woodside is in good shape, but the Alameda de las Pulgas is bad on account of lack of gravel. The majority of the highways were pronounced good.

In the Fourth Township a decided compliment was paid to the Supervisor by J. F. Wienke and Frank Madonna, the committee of investigation, on account of the excellent condition of the roads. Some few instances were found where repairs were needed, to which attention was called. The schools of the district were found to be in proper order, excepting that at Halfmoon Bay, which is sadly in need of repairs.

T. E. Roe and Wm. O'Brien, the committee for the Fifth Township, rendered a short report in which some of the roads were described as being in good condition. The road from Hayward's place to the Third Township line is bad; more gravel is needed on the San Gregorio creek road in places. The condition of this road is generally good. The road from the Tunitas bridge to the Fourth District line is not good. A number of bridges are in need of replanking.

G. P. Hartley, the expert, rendered a voluminous report concerning the different county offices, and barring a few clerical errors, found evidences of care and accuracy in the books and accounts of all.

An Architect's Suit.

R. H. Walker, the Palo Alto architect, has commenced a suit in the Superior Court of this County against Nellie P. Moulton to recover $350 and costs of suit on an alleged contract executed on September 30, 1903. The complaint alleges that Mrs. Moulton entered into a contract with Mr. Walker whereby the latter was to furnish drawings, plans, specifications, blue prints, etc., for a building and he was to superintend same and to receive as his compensation the sum of $500. He furnished the specifications, drawings, etc., and was paid $150, but was prevented from superintending the construction of the building through no fault of his. He was ready and willing at all times to carry out his part of the contract. Hence he sues to recover the balance due on said contract, to wit, $350.

PESCADERO PEBBLES.

PESCADERO, January 27.—Arthur McCormick's butcher shop was broken into a few days ago and fifty hams were taken, with other things. There is no positive clue to the thieves, but there are some suspicious characters here that are being shadowed. A package was also taken from the porch of J. C. Williamson's store, consigned to Robert Chatham, which will probably be found along with the hams. Fifty dollars reward is offered for the apprehension of the thieves.

Louis Cobrun is seriously contemplating a cable service at Pigeon Point for the benefit of the steamship company. The Steele Bros. have been agitating the same thing, as it is a needful service, and no other way of shipping freight so conveniently. They will wait a little while to see what will be done at the Point before purchasing any material for their cable.

Miss Emily Leighton, who has been absent for about three weeks attending State Institute and Board of Education, returned home Saturday. She will be ready on next Monday to teach the young idea how to shoot, and will have charge of the primary department. E. Rathke is principal.

The San Mateo and Pescadero stage had a runaway here, just after crossing the bridge. The team ran down Main street and turned the corner by the postoffice, colliding with a post and some public scales, breaking the tongue off the stage. No serious damage was done.

The abalone canning factory at the Point is doing a good business, and are capturing a good many of the bivalves.

Joe Hollinshead Sr. had the misfortune to cut his foot quite badly, while splitting wood a few days ago.

WOODSIDE CHIPS.

WOODSIDE, January 27.—L. M. Tuttle has been on the sick list during the week, but is improving from last accounts.

Miss Mae Meyer has returned to her home in Cordelia, after a pleasant visit with her cousin, Miss Edith Bottger.

The dance last Saturday evening was well attended, considering the weather, and a most enjoyable time was had by all.

Miss Elsie Cushin, the popular teacher of the West Union, is spending her vacation with her mother, at San Miguel.

Andrew Hopkins was up from the south last week, looking after his property in this place.

The rain the first of the week was the heaviest of the season, and will be of great benefit to crops.

Miss Freda Meyer is home from San Francisco for a short vacation.

Arthur Newman has gone to Los Angeles for the benefit of his health.

Love-Land!

Weary traveler, would'st thou find surcease from thy toil and struggles, and bask in the noonday of bliss? Wouldst thou tarry 'mid the singing of the zephyrs, the rustling of the leaves, the breathing of the flowers, the murmuring of the brooks? Would'st thou drink of the Fountain of Joy? If so, come where peace reigns supreme, where the music of the soul entrance thee, into the realms of Love-Land, where the Naiads preside over the Lakes of Forgetfulness, the Streams of Nepenthe, the Waters of Lethe, which wind their beautiful way into the spheres of Apollo and Orpheus, and Pandora and Venus, thence into the temple of Amphion, where the strains of ethereal melody find their ideal in the rapturous Love-Land Waltzes, the music of Cupid and Psyche, composed by Abe Holzmann. To be played to-night by the orchestra, at the Alhambra Theater.

Given a Reception.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Kent on Friday returned from their wedding trip which started in Iowa about a month ago and on Wednesday night were given a reception by the people of the Methodist church. Mr. Banks had charge of the affair and in very well chosen words expressed the pleasure of the people of the church at the return of the pastor and his wife. He was followed by a solo by Mrs. C. C. Bacon. Rev. C. C. Kirtland extended greetings from the Congregational church and his remarks were of a very happy turn. Miss Ethel Dodge sang a solo. Mr. Kent responded to the words of Mr. Kirtland and Mr. William Laswell closed the meeting by a short talk to the pastors. The ladies of the church then served refreshments which were much enjoyed. For the next half hour the many treinds present wished Mr. and Mrs. Kent many happy years of married life.

Scarpa Company Dividend.

The account of J. S. Mockbee as referee in the matter of George Ames vs Joseph Scarpa was heard and approved by Judge Hyland Wednesday in the Superior Court of Santa Clara county. A dividend of 100 cents on the dollar was declared on uncontested claims, and the referee was authorized to similarly settle all other claims sanctioned by both partners.

Do Not Neglect Your Eyes.

Dr. J. May, the Palo Alto optician, who regularly visits out of town every two weeks, will be here on Wednesday, January 31st, from 1 to 5 p. m., at Dr. Maine's office. He cordially invites all who have trouble with their eyes to call. No charge for examination.

LOMITA PARK.

Will Soon Be One of the Beautiful Suburban Places of the County.

Lomita Park, the beautiful residence property just north of Millbrae which was put on the market in August, 1904, will soon be one of the most beautiful residence districts in San Mateo county. Not only is the location fine, but the rolling country which comprises the tract makes it an ideal location for a home. The climate there is as nearly perfect as the perfect climate of California can be. Every facility for making life comfortable is to be found at Lomita Park. Besides electric lights and telephones, one of the best of water systems is installed and the water supply, a large artesian well not yet connected with the mains, sends up a beautiful sheet of water which falls over the pipe in the shape of a crystal bell.

The streets are broad, well graded and lined with rows of fine large cypress trees. The sewer system which has been installed under the supervision of engineer D. Bromfield insures perfect sanitation.

There are already two beautiful homes in Lomita, and before summer many more will be there. Those who reside in this suburb will certainly live in a place where it is good to be.

"A LITTLE OUTCAST."

A Meritorious Company in a New Play.

E. J. Carpenter's "A Little Outcast," the big scenic success of the last two seasons, comes to Redwood City on Sunday, February 5th. It is a big scenic melodrama, built along new and novel lines and is a decided departure from the usual stereotyped thriller. The story of the play, briefly told, is this:

Paul Weston, the hero, is in the employ of a wealthy broker named Harcourt who, appreciating the young clerk's fidelity, is about to take him into partnership and give him his daughter Madeline for a wife, not knowing that the young couple have been married secretly, when his nephew, George De Voe, interferes and charges Weston with robbing the broker and with being an ex-convict. In past years, Weston has served a term in prison on a false charge, this fact being found out by De Voe through the drunken father of "Bob," the little street gamin whom Weston has befriended. This father had been a cell mate of Weston, and agreed to keep silent about the past for a thousand dollars. Weston takes this sum from the broker's safe, intending to replace it next day from his own bank account. De Voe discovers the loss, takes the rest of the money in the safe and fastens the crime on Weston. Weston is at once cast out by the broker and all relations with his wife are ended, while De Voe is taken into Harcourt's employ. Taking to drink, Weston sinks lower and lower until finally he becomes involved in the robbery of a house which he discovers is his own wife's. De Voe again accuses him of being the instigator, but through the aid of "Bob" and Ethel, Weston's innocence is proven and he is finally freed and resumes his happy life with Madeline and the little baby. A very novel scene is introduced in the fourth act, where the two villains are scheming. A phonograph with a blank record stands in the room and "Bob," hearing the conversation, starts the machine, which later on is used to prove Weston's innocence.

"A Little Outcast" is now at the California Theater, San Francisco, stopping here on their way to Los Angeles. Seats now on sale at Pioneer Drug Store. Reserve seats, 50 cents. General admission, 35 cents. Children, 25 cents.

GONE TO REST.

Passing of Lewis Fowler, a Well Known Colored Man.

Never again will mortal eye dwell upon the bent and tottering form of Lewis Fowler, the kind and courteous old colored gentleman who has been a resident of this city for nearly twenty years, and who was known and respected by every man, woman and child with whom he came in contact. Suffering, as he had been, for years, by reason of advanced age, physical infirmities, the principal of which was his entire loss of sight, the true nature of the man still showed itself in the kindly manner and good fellowship with which he addressed his fellow man.

Mr. Fowler had lived beyond the allotted time of life, being upwards of eighty years of age, when he passed away peacefully last Wednesday evening, conscious of the fact that the Supreme Master was summoning him to appear before the Great White Throne, where the whipping post and the fiendish baying of the bloodhound would no more be known.

Mr. Fowler was a native of Missouri. He was sold into slavery and after the terrible sacrifice which made him a free man, came to California, at which time he had quite a competency, but, like many others, subsequently lost all, and in the latter years of his life he was dependent upon the charity of friends and neighbors for a living. At the time of his death he was receiving aid from the county, and, as he had no means, he was buried at the county's expense. James Crowe, however, who was a warm personal friend of the deceased, supplied the balance of the necessary funds to insure a more elaborate funeral than the law allows to indigents, with the result that the remains were laid away in a plain and neat coffin and deposited in a lot in Union Cemetery outside of the Potter's Field.

Mr. Crowe's daughter, Miss Alice, who never permits the body of an unknown or indigent to leave the undertaking parlors without having deposited upon the coffin a floral tribute to the dead, had arranged a handsome boquet of winter flowers, which rested near the center of the coffin, and passing school children contributed their bunches of violets to the memory of the old colored gentleman who they all recognized as their firm friend. The services were conducted by the Rev. Wilfred Kent, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of this place.

Case Dismissed.

The case against Joseph Debenedetti, Supervisor from the Fourth District, for illegal voting, was dismissed in the Federal court in San Francisco yesterday.

MENLO PARK OCCURRENCES

Paragraphs, Personal and Otherwise, From the Village of Beautiful Homes.

Work Commenced on the Bay Bay Shore Cut-off—Ducks Are Getting Scarce.

E. W. Hopkins and his young son Samuel will move here from San Francisco shortly after the first of the month.

W. R. Bartley departed for Butte City, Montana, Thursday evening, on a business trip, and will be absent for two months.

The rainfall for the season as recorded by the rain gauge at the Southern Pacific depot has been 7.61 inches, as against 4.04 at this time last year.

The artistic improvements being made on the Meyer saloon are done under the skillful supervision of Thomas Cochrane, a mechanic of the highest order of ability.

Mr. and Mrs. David Kirby were tendered a reception by their friends last Sunday in honor of the fifth anniversary of their marriage. A number from San Francisco were present.

James Gallagher, the section foreman for the Southern Pacific Company at this point, has been transferred to Sunnyvale to which place he will move his family next week.

Mrs. William Middleton arrived home from the sanitarium at San Jose Monday where she has been for some weeks. She is but little improved and this will be sad news to her numerous friends.

Geo. F. Vincent has received samples of the very latest and novel designs in wall paper from Henry Bosch & Co., Chicago. Mr. Vincent will display these samples at any home on notification from those desiring to see them.

James R. Doyle, Charles Brady, and Joseph Ahlert, are preparing plans for three handsome residences to be erected on the Mills tract adjoining the Tobey home. Work on the buildings will begin early in the spring.

Major J. L. Rathbone, who has been ill with pneumonia for several days at the Palace Hotel, was reported yesterday to be still in a critical condition, though no worse than the day before. The Major has a host of friends here who will regret to learn of his severe illness.

Alvin Studebacher, who recently robbed the residence of Edgar Mills, pleaded guilty in the Superior Court Wednesday and was sentenced to San Quentin for three years. The prisoner admitted a prior conviction.

Tony Boecker has purchased the Mayfield Hotel and will conduct an up-to-date hostelry. Mr. Boecker is a well-known young man about town with a host of friends who wish him every success in his new field of enterprise.

Mr. David Kirby, president of the Gaelic League, is organizing a dramatic club with a view to the production of Irish plays on the Menlo stage. The next meeting of the Gaelic class will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Chas. N. Felton Jr. will give a dinner and dance Thursday evening, February 9th, in honor of Miss Lily Spreckels and Harry Holbrook. Mr. Felton and Mr. Holbrook have been chums since their school days.

The inclement weather of the past few weeks has driven all the ducks from local marshes and hunters have brought but few bags to town. Snipe are plentiful, furnishing splendid sport to hunters. Joe Cull and E. J. Crane shot the limit Sunday.

The many friends of Miss Fannie Doyle will be pleased to learn that she is recovering from a serious illness which alarmed her relatives during the week. She was in a critical condition during Monday and Tuesday but rallied on Wednesday and is now pronounced out of danger.

Joe Grenzer has disposed of his bicycle shop to Fred Seal of Fresno. Mr. Grenzer will take life easy for a few months, and in May he will depart for Europe to make a tour of the Old World. On his return he will again engage in business in this valley. Mr. Seal is a brother of Mrs. Geo. Meekins.

Many from here attended the California Theater, in San Francisco, during the week to witness the Irish plays by Joe Murphy, the veteran actor. Murphy in his younger years, and at the beginning of his histrionic career, was a warm personal friend of the late John Monahan, and spent many happy days with the latter fishing and hunting along the San Francisquito creek.

Denis Dugan, formerly of Menlo Park but recently a resident of Mayfield, left Tuesday for New York, his former home, to spend some weeks with his son whom he has not met in many years. Mr. Dugan is employed by the Southern Pacific Company as gardener and has charge of all the grounds around the different depots from Santa Clara to San Mateo.

The Cemetery Association has instructed the superintendent of Holy Cross Cemetery to furnish a list of plot owners who refuse to erect becoming monuments over the graves of their dead. Notwithstanding repeated complaints from the Association many graves are nameless and unmarked even by a simple wooden cross. Measures will be taken as soon as possible to have this disgraceful condition of things remedied.

Robert Danneberg, the Palo Alto S. P. Co. agent, has gone to San Francisco to undergo an operation, and during his absence his place will be filled by P. A. Farley. The latter was given a leave of absence some time ago, but owing to the illness of Mr. Danneberg he has been recalled. Mr. Farley is perhaps one of the best posted railroad men in the State, and the company, recognizing his ability, has always promoted him when an opportunity presented itself.

Work has begun on the much-talked-of bay shore cut-off. This short cut will make San Francisco fully twenty minutes nearer and will mean much to this county. Two years will be required to finish the work and by that time no doubt the bay will have been bridged at Ravenswood. The effect of this are not seen at a glance, but it is doubtful if any other event has happened lately which is of such great importance.

There has been some talk in railroad circles regarding the change of time of the 6:45 morning train to San Francisco. The company desiring it to leave here fifteen minutes earlier. A strong protest from the commuters all along the line has succeeded in preventing the proposed change. It is understood the commuters of San Mateo want it but those south of that place were opposed to the change.

CURES STOMACH TROUBLES
THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food sours on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.
Thedford's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.
You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Thedford's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.
